ABSTRACT

An Illinois project developed competency-based curriculum guides for Gardening/Groundskeeping and Floriculture using the V-TECS (Vocational Technical Education Consortium of States) catalogues. The programs were designed to provide students at the senior high school and two-year college level with entry-level and higher job skills and to provide the state horticulture industry with skilled personnel. Procedures included verification of V-TECS tasks on state level, development of the two V-TECS-based curriculum guides, determination of teaching and evaluation strategies for gardening/groundskeeping and floriculture, identification of teaching resources for both, and development of training and field-test sites. (The curriculum guides are available separately--see Note.) (YLB)

CHAPTER I

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

To be effective, vocational education programs must graduate students whose skills are in demand on tha labor market. As industry needs change periodically, the knowledge and cooperation of businesses and vocational educators must be solicited to design curriculum which trains students for high-demand occupations.

Purpose:

The rationale for this proposed activity was to design competency-based programs in Gardening/Groundskeeping and Floriculture which can be used specifically by students at the senior high school and two-year college level throughout the State. The primary objective is to provide students with entry-level and higher job skills in the gardening/groundskeeping and floriculture areas, and to provide the State horticulture industry with skilled and knowledgeable personnel.

Objectives:

GOAL STATEMENT: To develop competency-based curriculum guides for Gardening/Groundskeeping and Floriculture using the V-TECS catalogues.

1. Verify V-TECS tasks on state level.
2. Develop the two V-TECS in a two-phase process.
3. Determine teaching and evaluation strategies for each objective.
4. Identify teaching resources for each objective.
5. Develop training sites for V-TECS which are not presently available.
6. Develop sites for field-testing.

PROCEDURES:

1. Task validation meetings with Advisory Committee members.
2. Task validation by additional horticultural businesses.
3. Requests to state Departments of Education for available instructional resources - responses and information received developed into instructional resource lists for Gardening/ Groundskeeping and Floriculture.
4. Review of previously developed curriculum guides for format, etc.
5. Development of curriculum guide format - accepted by Advisory Committee.
6. Listing of teaching strategies for each Gardening/Groundskeeping task.
7. Listing of evaluation strategies for each Gardening/Groundskeeping task.
8. Listing of instructional resources for each Gardening/Groundskeeping task.
9. Listing of teaching strategies for each Floriculture task.
10. Listing of evaluation strategies for each Floriculture task.
11. Listing of instructional resources for each Floriculture task.
12. Development and dissemination of letter to State horticulture teachers requesting assistance in reviewing/field-testing Gardening/Groundskeeping and Floriculture curriculum guides.
13. Development of training sites for V-TECS.
14. Development of sites for field-testing Gardening/Groundskeeping and Floriculture curriculum guides.

CHAPTER II

MAJOR ACTIVITIES AND EVENTS

PROBLEMS:

Dr. Robert G. Huntley, Project Director was unable to maintain his grant activities due to a greenhouse injury received October 30, 1979 and subsequent surgery on January 7, 1980. Since February, 1980, Dr. Huntley has been on an extended sick leave at his doctors' request. Susan E. Bates was assigned to the grant as Assistant Project Director starting January 2, 1980. She has continued the work done by Dr. Huntley on the grant activities.

Due to Dr. Huntley's illnesses and departure from the original time table, the grant activities were reduced from the development of three curriculum guides (Gardening/Groundskeeping, Floriculture and Turf Management) to the development of two curriculum guides (Gardening/Groundskeeping and Floriculture). The Time/Sequence Chart was also altered to allow grant activities to be brought up-to-date.

PUBLICITY ACTIVITIES:

1. Local newspapers published an article stating Dr. Huntley of the College of DuPage had been awarded a grant from the State of Illinois to develop horticulture curriculum guides.
2. Scheduled visits by Ms. Peggy Poole, Contract Administrator Illinois State Board of Education, Department of Adult, Vocational and Technical Education, Research and Development.

CHAPTER III

OTHER ACTIVITIES - RESULTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

SUMMATION OF EVALUATION DATA COLLECTED:

Each of the curriculum guides, Gardening/Groundskeeping, and Floriculture, have been evaluated by the appropriate advisory committee members. In addition, provisions are being made to field test these guides during the Fall of 1980, with six (6) horticulture teachers in the State of Illinois. Further changes may be made based upon the recommendations of these six teachers.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. The developed Gardening/Groundskeeping and Floriculture curriculum guides should be field tested by qualified horticulture teachers within the State of Illinois.
2. The developed Gardening/Groundskeeping and Floriculture curriculum guides should be further revised as indicated by field testing.
3. Continued input from state and local horticultural businesses should be sought in the future development of horticultural curriculum guides.

STAFF EMPLOYMENT AND UTILIZATION:

As noted under Problems, due to the illness and sick leave of Dr. Robert G. Huntley, Project Director, Susan E. Bates has been assigned to the grant as Assistant Project Director.

The State Board of Education/Illinois Office of Education insures equal employment/educational opportunities/affirmative action regardless of race, sex, color, national origin, religion, age or handicap.

Grants given to COD faculty members

Two College of DuPage faculty members are the recipients of curriculum grants from the Department of Adult Vocational and Technical Education of the Illinois State Board of Education.

Robert G. Huntley, coordinator of the ornamental horticulture program, received a grant of $18,068 which he will use to develop three curriculums dealing with turf management, floriculture, and gardening-grounds. He will receive one-half release time from his teaching duties for this work.

Huntley's curriculums will be field tested in other institutions and could be used statewide. His proposal for the grant was selected from statewide competition.

Also selected in statewide competition is Gene C. Walker, coordinator of the college's air conditioning/refrigerator program. His $10,748 grant is to be used to develop a curriculum in the air conditioning field.

He also will have his work field tested in other institutions with a possibility of statewide use. Walker will receive one-third release time from his duties at the college to undertake this work.
